Arizona Model United Nations 61

Decades of Diplomacy

Expected Conduct

As part of this simulation of the United Nations and related bodies, delegates are expected to remain diplomatically courteous at all times for the duration of the conference. This demands a high standard of personal conduct and behavior from all delegates. Delegates who threaten the safety or wellbeing of others will be asked to leave.

Conference Slack

Delegates and advisors are encouraged to join our conference Slack to communicate with each other and AZMUN staff throughout the conference. Delegates should name themselves “country_committee,” for example “China_WHO.”

This year, AZMUN is celebrating 20 years of collaboration with FIEL Sociedad Civil, an Hermosillo-based nonprofit which coordinates the Mexican Committee for AZMUN (CMAzMUN) among other educational and philanthropic ventures to foment the leadership in youth.

Pictured below is the first CMAzMUN, which joined us for the first time in 2003. We're incredibly grateful for this partnership which has helped our programs become renowned for their cross-border, bilingual nature. Here's to many more successful years!

Safety Tips

As with any city, delegates should avoid travelling alone at night. Trust your instinct: if you see something, say something.

Credentials

All AZMUN delegates, staff, and advisors are required to display their badges at all times, including during social events. Failure to wear your badge may result in your dismissal from the event.

Blue-Light System

In the event of an emergency, any AZMUN participant may activate a nearby blue-light call button to contact UAPD. If calling for help from a cell phone, indicate to the dispatcher that you are at the University of Arizona.

Medical Services

A non-exhaustive list of urgent and emergency care services in the area can be found here. Please note that On-Campus Health Services are only available to UA students.
